MURDER REPORTED AT WAIMANALO

JAPS GET INTO A FIGHT YESTERDAY AND STAR ONE OF THEIR COUNTRYMEN TO DEATH.

High Sheriff Henry received notification this morning by telephone of a murder that was committed in Waimanalo yesterday afternoon. Two Japs attacked another Jap with knives and killed him. The pair tried to escape but were surrounded in a cane field and captured. They were taken to the Kaneohe jail and locked up. An inquest is being held this afternoon on the murdered Jap.

The High Sheriff was also notified that a stabbing affray had occurred at Kahuku last night. The participants, a pair of Japs, were intoxicated at the time. Takado was mixed up in the row and was brought to the city this morning. The injured man will recover.

NOTLEY IS ARRESTED

HOME RULE CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY TODAY ON A CHARGE OF LIBELLING LAUKA, THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR CONGRESS—CLAIMS THAT HE HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH PUBLICATION OF ALLEGED ARTICLE.

Charles Notley, the Home Rule candidate for Congress, was arrested this morning at Home Rule headquarters by Deputy High Sheriff Rawlins on a warrant charging Notley with criminal libel. The warrant was issued on a complaint sworn to by W. F. Erwing, secretary of the Democratic Territorial Central Committee. The complaint read as follows:

"Wm. F. Erwing, of Honolulu, being first duly sworn, says, that one Charles Notley, did at said Honolulu, on the 5th day of November, A. D. 1904, commit the crime of publishing a libel by maliciously putting into circulation in said Honolulu, in a newspaper published and circulated in said Honolulu and known as the Kuokoa Home Rule, a certain false and malicious writing and article in the words and figures as set forth in Exhibit 'A' hereto attached and made a part hereof, which said writing and article directly tends to injure the fame, reputation and good name of another person to wit: one Curtis P. Laukea, and to bring him in disgrace, abhorrence, odium, hatred, contempt and ridicule; said publication of said libelous article being without authority, or justification by law, and contrary to the provisions of Chapter 32 of the Penal Laws of 1897 of the Territory of Hawaii. Said article meaning and charging that Curtis P. Laukea corruptly appropriated to his own use opium of the value of $45,000 in his custody of Collector of Customs at the city of Honolulu of the Hawaiian Government, in the following words therein contained to wit: 'He $45,000 ka waiwai io o ka opiuma i nalowale ma ka Hale Dute i ko Laukea wa e noho ana. Aia ihea keia mau dala?' and in other words and parts of said article.

Notley seemed considerably surprised at the action taken by his Democratic opponents. He was taken to the police station and released on a bond furnished by D. Kalauokalani, the president of the Home Rule party.

Notley stated that he knew nothing or had nothing to do regarding the publication of the alleged libellous article. He claimed to have been on the Island of Molokai at the time that the article was published. There is evidently a clerical error in the indictment, as it charges that the article was published on November 5 when, as a matter of fact, the article appears to have been published at an earlier date, and November 5 will be tomorrow. The article placed in the exhibit of the complaint occupied a column and a half in the paper and is introduced by glaring headlines, a literal translation of them being as follows:

"Let justice be though the heavens fall. The abandoned lies and falsehoods of Laukea. You of the four waters be not deceived. Forty-five thousand dollars was the value of the opium lost in the Custom House during Laukea's incumbency. Where is it?"

The article from a general translation charges that Laukea while Collector of Customs under the Hawaiian government, allowed to be misappropriated under his administration, a large quantity of opium. The article contains a quantity of abuse of Laukea, the Democratic nominee for Delegate to Congress.

While Charles Notley was not in the city at the time that the alleged libellous article against Laukea was published, Notley is nevertheless the proprietor of the paper, or at least is so credited, and he is held responsible for any utterances that the paper may make. The Democrats are indignant against the insinuations that are made against Laukea and they propose to prosecute Notley vigorously on the present charge.

Andrews' Date Of Resignation

REPORT THAT ATTORNEY GENERAL'S RETIREMENT FROM OFFICE IS TO TAKE PLACE AT ONCE—ANDREWS SAYS HE IS TO LEAVE DEPARTMENT SOON BUT HAS NOT HEARD OF IMMEDIATE LEAVING.

A rumor was current today that Attorney General Lorrin Andrews was to resign within the next two or three days. The report said that his retirement was to be announced before election. When questioned, the Attorney General stated that he had not heard anything about it. He also stated, as published in The Star some months ago, that it was his intention to retire as soon as Governor Carter had chosen a successor, and that he could not afford to remain in the department for financial reasons. "I do not see how I can retire before December," he added. "As for the report that the acceptance of my resignation is to be announced before election all I can say is that I haven't heard of it, and if the governor has any such intention he has not communicated it to me."

SAYS HE SAW THE YASHIMA

JAPANESE BATTLESHIP REPORTED LOST LAST JUNE SEEN WITH THE FLEET AT ELLIOT BAY LATE IN JULY, ACCORDING TO AN AMERICAN CORRESPONDENT WHO VISITED ADMIRAL TOGO AND THOUGHT HE COUNTED FIVE BATTLESHIPS.

The report of the sinking of the battleship Yashima, in a Paris cable this morning, gives her loss as in June, but according to apparently reliable reports she was seen later than that. In July a number of correspondents were allowed to make a trip on the gunboat on the Manshu Maru, to interview Admiral Togo at Elliot Islands, the secret rendezvous of the Japanese fleet. The Yashima was among the other vessels at that time, according to their reports. Ellis Ashmead Bartlett, of Collier's Weekly, who interviewed Togo and took a number of photographs, wrote the following under date of July 26:

"For some time past there has been an effort on the part of certain persons, whose sympathies are not so much with Japan as with her enemy, to prove that the losses of her fleet have been much heavier than has been officially declared. Thus vague hints have been thrown out of cruisers secretly destroyed, and of battleships secretly injured so severely that any further participation on their part in the war was an impossibility. "It had been declared to me as a positive fact that both the Shikishima and Yashima had struck mines, and, although not sunk, had been taken back to Sasebo for repairs, which would take months. The logical deduction drawn from these purely imaginary losses was that the naval balance had once more been restored, and that the Russian battleships in Port Arthur were more than a match for those remaining to Japan. "It therefore came as somewhat of a surprise to these pessimists to see among the fleet at anchor on this day those very vessels whose end they had so prematurely and dolefully foretold. There were five first-class battleships—the Mikasa, with Admiral Togo on board; the Shikishima, Yashima, Ashihara, and Fujii; the armored cruisers

DOCKYARDS FIRE AT NEW YORK

THE FIRST REPORT, TELLING OF DESTRUCTION OF THREE BIG STEAMERS.

The following is the first Mainland Press account of the dockyards fire at New York, reporting destruction of three American-Hawaiian steamers which were afterwards reported saved:

NEW YORK, October 25, 3:03 a. m.—Fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, swept over the piers, warehouses and shipping at the Terminal Company's stores, South Brooklyn, early this morning. It was still burning at 3 o'clock this morning, and at that time two lives were known to have been lost and there were fears that this number would be multiplied many times.

Four fine ocean-going steamships were burning from bow to stern and were believed to be doomed, and hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of cotton, hemp and general cargo that the China ships bring in were all ablaze and irreparably damaged.

The ships lost are the American, the Arizona and the Nebraskan of the American and Hawaiian Steamship Company and the Clita di Palermo of the Italian line. They are fast to the piers, blazing at all points. It is impossible to get near enough to drag them out into midstream.

That the fire was of incendiary origin is the testimony of two private detectives.

DEMOCRATS LOSING GROUND

ISSUE OF THE CAMPAIGN IS BETWEEN THE REPUBLICANS AND HOME RULERS.

"The whole fight in the present election," said Lorrin Andrews today "is between the Republicans and the Home Rulers. The defections which are taking place from Democrats to Home Rulers show this. Our information, carefully gathered in all precincts, is to the effect that the Democrats are not in it at all. They are losing ground everywhere.

"The real danger to the Republicans is that the Democrats will poll enough votes to elect men on the Home Rule ticket. We do not fear the Democrats as foes. The whole issue of the fight is between the Home Rulers and the Republicans. Except as they may draw from us in our fight with Home Rulers, the Democrats do not matter."
